M'CARREN'S POWER
IN BROOKLYN BROKEN,
MURPHY IN CONTROL

Tammany Chief Holds Secret Conferences with District Leaders, and Fifteen of the Twenty-one in Kings County Pledge Their Support.

They Promise to Vote Against Sending an Instructed Delegation to the National Convention and to Consult Doyle as Party Leader in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN LEADERS WHO HAVE DESERTED PATRICK H. M'CARREN.

P. H. QUINN, First Assembly District.
JOHN WALSH, Second Assembly District.
JAMES KANE, Third Assembly District.
JAMES BOUCK, Fourth Assembly District.
WILLIAM M'GUIRE, Sixth Assembly District.
WILLIAM A. DOYLE, Seventh Assembly District.
JOHN M. GRAY, Eighth Assembly District.
JAMES KEOHE, Ninth Assembly District.

THOMAS FARRELL, Eleventh Assembly District.
MATTHEW DOOLEY, Twelfth Assembly District.
JOHN L. SHEA, Seventeenth Assembly District.
FRANK CREAMER, Eighteenth Assembly District.
CONRAD HASENFUG, Nineteenth Assembly District.
DENNIS WINTER, Twentieth Assembly District.
JAMES P. SIVOTT, Twenty-first Assembly District.

From present indications the New York delegation to the State convention to elect delegates-at-large to the National Democratic Convention will be controlled by Charles F. Murphy. He already has the delegates in Manhattan, the Bronx, Queens and Richmond, and has fifteen of the twenty-one district leaders in Kings in favor of non-instruction of delegates.

Mr. Murphy said to-day that he had not changed his mind about the policy of instructing the delegates for Parker, nor had he changed his mind about Grover Cleveland being the most available man. He believed that the National Convention should select the candidate unfettered by State instructions, he said, but if the sentiment of the convention was that Judge Parker should be New York's candidate he would be willing to abide by it.

Senator McCarren controls only six district leaders, including himself, out of the twenty-one in the borough of Kings. Some of these are not sure in their allegiance, and it would not be surprising were he to lose the county so conclusively as to make it advisable for him to take no further active interest in the selection of delegates to the State and National Conventions.

Mr. Murphy, it appears, has taken a personal interest in securing the allegiance of the Kings County leaders, and the return of Hugh McLaughlin from Florida has marked a change in sentiment among some who had announced that they would stick by McCarren. McLaughlin has no love for Charles F. Murphy, but he has less for McCarren, who took the Kings County leadership away from him. It is significant that among the leaders who have swung to the Murphy side are the old-time McLaughlinites who antagonized McCarren in his fight to take control of the machine last fall.

The only leaders who have not agreed to send delegates to the State Convention in favor of non-instruction are Meloy, of the Fifth; Haggerty, of the Tenth; Lindsay, of the Fifteenth; Brennan, of the Thirteenth, and Regan, of the Sixteenth. With the whole Greater New York delegation against them it is not believed that these men can command any attention in the convention even though they be backed by the Hill influence—which is unlikely.

WOMAN LEAPS TO DEATH
FROM A SWELL HOTEL

Agnes Pemberton drank carbolic acid in her room on the tenth floor of the Willard Hotel at No. 232 West Seventy-sixth street this afternoon and then jumped out of the window into a stone-paved area.

She was instantly killed.

The woman was a chambermaid in the hotel. Some time ago she was married, but the union did not prove to be happy and she complained to the other employees that she was tired of living.

She was in the room on the top floor of the building, which she shared with another of the chambermaids, this afternoon when she began to talk about her troubles. Announcing that she had decided to end her life, she took a bottle of carbolic acid from a pocket in her apron and drank it.

The other woman ran for the door, and the Pemberton woman, thinking that an attempt was to be made to spoil her suicide, started for the window. She died out and, turning over at the bottom of the shaft.

The noise of the fall and shrieks of the woman who had left the room aroused everybody in the hotel. An ambulance call was sent to Roosevelt hospital, but the surgeon who responded said that she had been dead from the time that she reached the ground. Nothing is known of her husband at the hotel. She was thirty-five years of age.

HILL LOSES DELEGATES.

SYRACUSE, April 6.—The fight made by the Hill Democrats against ex-State Committeeman W. E. Kirk as a State delegate resulted to-day in the loss of the Third District of Onondaga to the Hill men.

State Committeeman John Dunfee, holding the balance of power, threw his delegates to the reorganizers, electing Mr. Kirk and leaving off his (Dunfee's) son-in-law, John J. Cummins, Chairman of the General Committee of the County, who had been slated by the Hill men.

The delegation was instructed for Parker for President and Mayor McClellan for Governor.

ANTI-GAMBLING
BILL PASSES;
UP TO GOVERNOR

Assembly After a Hot Fight Indorses District Attorney Jerome's Measure by a Vote of 93 to 47, and It Will Be at Once Sent to Mr. Odell for His Signature.

REGGIE VANDERBILT MAY NOW
BE CALLED AGAINST CANFIELD.

Mr. Jerome Was in the Assembly Chamber During the Debate and Heard Some Bitter Attacks Upon His Methods—Members Showed Strong Resentment of Boodle Talk.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ALBANY, N. Y., April 6.—The Assembly, by a vote of 93 ayes to 47 nays, after a debate of nearly five hours this afternoon, passed the Jerome Anti-Gambling bill, which will permit Reginald Vanderbilt and other millionaires to be examined in the proceedings against Richard Canfield. The bill has already passed the Senate and now goes to the Governor for final determination. It is believed that he will sign the measure.

BIG FIGHT OVER BILL.

The fight over the bill was the hottest that has been seen during the present session. All possible pressure was brought to bear against it and the feeling between the members several times reached a point where personal encounters were feared.

When the bill was reached upon the calendar Assemblyman Wade took the floor on a question of personal privilege to refute certain published charges that he was to attack the bill at the request of Speaker Nixon. He emphatically declared that he had not done or been asked to do anything of the sort for the Speaker.

"I do not stand on the floor of the House as the agent of any man," said he. "I represent as well as I know how the First District of Chautauque County. This statement is unfair not only to me, but to the presiding officer of this House."

Speaker Nixon said that if any mistake was threatened in the report of the bill by the Rules Committee it was due to the request for the report made by Assemblyman Wainwright. Two bills are pending in the Assembly: the Dowling bill, which goes into effect immediately, and the Wainwright measure, which, if passed, would not go into operation until Sept. 1.

Mr. Wainwright in his request had asked for the report of his own bill. Mr. Wainwright subsequently acknowledged that he had made a mistake in requesting a report on the bill.

Public Affairs.
District Attorney Jerome was present in the Assembly Chamber during the discussion. Mr. Wainwright, the sponsor of the bill in the Assembly, explained its provisions and purposes, made in the Senate when the bill was under consideration in that house and by Mr. Jerome before the Assembly and Senate committees.

"The people of this State," he said, "abhor public gambling. They look upon it as great as other crimes which attack the homes and general morals of the community. There is no subject at the present time in which there is more public interest taken than this. Public sentiment requires that this bill should be enacted."

"We should not protect the men who have violated the anti-gambling laws of the State. We should not concern ourselves over the feelings of certain men, prominent though they be, who frequent gambling establishments. When men gamble they understand that they are violating the law, and they voluntarily surrender themselves liable to be disgraced by the fact becoming public."

"The bill is asked for by the District Attorney of the greatest county in the State, who says that he needs it to reach the great gamblers of the country. It is a bill which will perform a great public service and will vindicate itself before the people."

Canceled Not in It.
Assemblyman Bostwick followed with a defense of the provisions of the bill which it has been held as unconstitutional. "I have," he said, "that when this bill it will take the highest view relative to the expediency for its enactment. I admit that we should not be misled by the public press to put a wrong act on the statute books. But when any man says he does not care for public opinion he is not a wise man. We should be guided by the will of the people. If you fail to pass this act you will create the public mind a demand for law."

The bill was read by the Assemblyman, Fernham (Republican), of New York City.

Assemblyman Finch said that it was a question of public policy to say whether the bill should be enacted. "If the act is passed," he said, "it will be a landmark in the history of the State. Assemblyman Finch attacked District Attorney Jerome as well as the measure."
